

Modern Slavery Statement

Financial year ending 31 December 2016.

Studiocanal Limited (“STUDIOCANAL”) is a leading film production, acquisition and distribution company in the United Kingdom. STUDIOCANAL’s parent company, CANAL+ Group, is fully-owned by Vivendi, a global media and content production and distribution group.

STUDIOCANAL is committed to ensuring that modern slavery and human trafficking is not taking place in any part of its business and supply chains and that it does not knowingly deal with any third party involved in modern slavery and human trafficking.

During its 2016 financial year, STUDIOCANAL has started to investigate its business and supply chains for evidence of modern slavery and human trafficking. From the investigations it has carried out so far, STUDIOCANAL is not aware that any modern slavery and human trafficking is taking place in its business and supply chains.

STUDIOCANAL recognises and respects employment laws applicable to its business and it has started to raise awareness of modern slavery and human trafficking amongst its employees by drawing their attention to documentation on the forms modern slavery and human trafficking can take.

STUDIOCANAL’s supply chains involve the production, commission, acquisition, marketing and licensing of intellectual property rights in audio-visual content such as films and television series. STUDIOCANAL strives to do business with third parties which share its values and its supply chains are based on long-term relationships with reputable suppliers. STUDIOCANAL has started to give specific consideration to modern slavery and human trafficking issues when dealing with its suppliers, including considering such matters in its analysis of chain of title documents and contributors agreements for film and television series, and has started to include modern slavery provisions in its agreements with third parties.

STUDIOCANAL intends to further its investigations and procedures relating to modern slavery and human trafficking during its 2017 financial year.

This statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and was approved by the board of directors of STUDIOCANAL on 30 June 2017.

Danny Perkins

Chief Executive Officer